

A Tax International d.o.o.

Multidisciplinary business advisory for companies operating in Slovenia and internationally

Industry

Tax and financial consulting, accounting, IT and legal

A Tax International (ATI) is a Slovenia-based multidisciplinary advisory firm providing tax, finance, accounting, legal and IT support to local and international businesses. Its services range from tax compliance, transfer pricing and accounting outsourcing to corporate law, financial management, due diligence, business process digitalisation and ESG-related advisory. ATI places a strong emphasis on cross-border work, supporting foreign companies doing business in Slovenia as well as Slovenian companies with international operations. Its integrated model allows clients to address financial, legal, tax and operational questions through one advisory team, making the company particularly relevant to businesses entering a new market or managing activities across jurisdictions.

Website www.ataxint.com

LynxCraft d.o.o.

AI-supported homebuilding platform connecting design, project control and a vetted construction ecosystem

Industry

Architecture, construction technology and proptech

LynxCraft is a Slovenian construction technology company developing Lynx Copilot, an AI-supported platform designed to simplify the homebuilding process for private investors. The platform combines early-stage feasibility analysis, cost estimation and planning-rule checks with access to certified architects, contractors and project-management support. It is designed to give homebuilders clearer oversight of budget, schedule, documentation and key decisions from the first concept through construction. LynxCraft's wider ambition is to create a scalable homebuilding ecosystem that connects private investors with professional service providers and suppliers through a more structured, technology-enabled process.

Website www.lynx-craft.com

Strip's d.o.o.

End-to-end development and manufacturing of customised electronic and mechatronic solutions

Industry

Electronics development and production, ODM/EMS

Strip's is a Slovenian electronics and mechatronics company with more than 30 years of experience in developing and manufacturing customer-specific solutions. Operating as both an ODM and EMS partner, the company supports projects from concept design and prototyping through industrialisation, serial production, quality assurance and logistics. Strip's has its own R&D and manufacturing capabilities and works across lighting, household and professional appliances, automotive, medical technology, e-mobility, smart energy and IoT. Its production capabilities include PCBA, testing and box-build assembly, supported by internationally recognised quality and environmental management standards. The company is suited to partners seeking a flexible European development and manufacturing partner for specialised electronic products.

Website www.strips.eu

ETREL d.o.o.

European AC charging solutions for public, workplace, fleet and private EV infrastructure

Industry

E-mobility, with a focus on AC charging stations

Etre is a Slovenian developer and manufacturer of AC electric-vehicle charging solutions for public, workplace, fleet and private charging networks. Founded in 2007, the company has built several generations of smart charging products that are deployed across European markets. Its current portfolio includes the INCH Pro and INCH Duo charging stations, designed for reliable operation, intuitive use and integration with charge-point management and energy systems. Etre's technology supports dynamic load management and smart-grid interaction, helping operators deploy charging infrastructure where available grid capacity may be limited. The company focuses on long-life hardware, flexible configurations and practical solutions for charge-point operators and infrastructure partners.

Website www.etrel.com

Leadership Solutions d.o.o.

Boutique executive search and leadership advisory with a focus on human capital risk

Industry

Management consulting

Leadership Solutions is a Slovenian boutique management consulting firm specialising in executive search, leadership advisory and human capital risk assessment. The company works with senior executives, leadership teams and boards on appointments, succession, leadership assessment and development, as well as broader strategic people decisions. It also applies a human-capital perspective to mergers and acquisitions, assessing leadership capability, key-person dependencies, organisational culture and other people-related risks that can affect transaction value and post-deal performance. Its work also includes board effectiveness and executive compensation benchmarking. The firm operates locally and internationally and is positioned for organisations seeking senior leadership expertise, executive talent or people-risk support during growth, transformation or investment.

LinkedIn View company profile

Ograje Kočevar d.o.o.

Slovenian manufacturer of fencing systems, gates and customised perimeter solutions

Industry

Fencing systems manufacturing, gates and perimeter solutions

Ograje Kočevar is a Slovenian manufacturer of fencing systems, gates and related perimeter solutions, with its own production and development capabilities. The company has more than 15 years of experience and provides a complete service from design and planning through manufacture, installation and assembly. Its portfolio includes panel and premium fences, gates, automation, accessories, balconies and stair railings, with solutions for residential, commercial and industrial applications. Ograje Kočevar manufactures more than 6,000 fencing systems and installs over 180 kilometres of fencing each year. Its in-house know-how, made-to-order production and turnkey delivery make the company a potential partner for UK distributors, contractors, developers and other businesses seeking Slovenian-made fencing and perimeter solutions.

Website www.ograje.com